YON BUELOW WARNS GERMANY AGAINST FRANCE

GAS AGREEMENT STILL UNFINISHED; NEW BIDDER NOW

Council Will Continue Discussion of Pelican Terms at Meeting Monday.

COSTE-FYSCH SYNDICATE MAKES OFFER OF $100,000

Told That City's Franchises Are Not for Sale—Lower Price Suggested.

THE COSTE-FYSCH OFFER

The Coste-Fysch offer reads as follows:

"We understand that an agreement is about to be provisionally entered into between the Pelican Gas & Oil company, Limited, and the corporation of the city of Edmonton, a copy of which we have seen, in connection with this we are prepared to offer the city a similar agreement $100,000 in bonds or cash. The agreement to stipulate an exclusive contract for 20 years at 15 cents per thousand feet at any point the city designates within its limits. These bonds will be of the same issue and similar in all respects to the bonds which we propose placing on the market to finance the proposition.

"We would again point out to you that should the city enter into a contract with us that all necessary funds for putting the project in shape for the bond underwriter will be secured by private subscription and no stock will be offered to the public."

The council made very little progress yesterday afternoon on the final passing of the agreement to be submitted to the people asking for a 20-year franchise in favor of the Pelican Gas and Oil company. The first snag was struck when the clerk was asked to read a letter submitted to the mayor and members of the city council by Eugene Coste and Thomas M. Fysch, the Calgary gas men, in which they offer the city $100,000 in bonds or cash for an agreement similar to that which it is proposed to give to the Pelican company.

Many changes in the draft agreement as submitted by the public works committee are being made and as it was impossible to get through all the clauses of the agreement a motion was passed that the council adjourn until two o'clock Monday afternoon when the agreement will be taken up further.

Nine aldermen were present at the session yesterday afternoon. Alderman Walsh arrived after the first division on the amendment which required the casting vote of the mayor to go into committee of the whole that the agreement might be considered.

Alderman East opened the debate on the gas question with a motion to file the agreement and that no action be taken at the present time. After having been seconded by Alderman Driscoll, Alderman East set out his reasons for making this motion. Not only an offer of the kind made for a similar agreement, he stated, "but it is very poor policy for this council in its dying hours to go into the gas scheme as proposed." He

BRAMWELL AND BALLINGTON BOOTH AGAIN ARE UNITED

Leaders of the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America Meet After an Estrangement of Eighteen Years—Both Are Guests of Clergyman at Lunch.

New York, Nov. 29.—Two brothers, leaders of great religious organizations, who had not met in 18 years, greeted each other in this city before the departure of one of the two to London. They extended the hand of fellowship and brotherly affection. They were General Bramwell Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation Army, and General Ballington Booth, president of the volunteers of America, which he founded following the war in the present body in 1898. The meeting took place at the Alpha Delta Phi club, where the generals were the guests of Rev. Allen Bennet at lunch.

When the word was passed around among the many volunteers gathered at the army headquarters to honor to General Bramwell Booth, that the brothers had come together after many years, many "Hallelujahs" were fervently spoken.

Neither of the generals would talk about reunion. Both, however, agreed to the publication of a brief statement setting forth the place of the meeting in which they met after luncheon was a private meeting between the two brothers. The interview was a friendly and brotherly one and of course, entirely concerned with personal and family matters.

HON. WILFRID GARIPEY,
K.C., M.P.P.

Newly Appointed Minister of Municipalities.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF RUSSIAN PALACE POLICE CHIEF

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—A mystery surrounds the death of General Dzhidzhin, chief of the palace police. He died in his official apartment in the imperial palace at St. Petersburg, but so far absolutely no official mention is made of his death.

It is not said that he died of pneumonia, which was the death certificate of his professor, Gen. Repet, Dzhidzhin was an important man in the court. The Russian Embassy at the city of London, and most of the spies, who have been fomenting the revolution in the city, are the last people of years, had him as their champion at court.

GOES TO RESCUE OF WOMAN AND STRIKES ENRAGED HUSBAND DEAD

Wilton, Wis., Nov. 29.—Creat of Mrs. Eckelberg when she was beaten by her husband, a former county officer, at their home near this village last night brought to the rescue James Worden, a neighbor who in passing heard the woman's agonizing screams. On entering Worden's house, he was attacked by Eckelberg and struck back at the furious man with the result that Eckelberg was struck down to the floor. Sheriff Worden, of Monroe county, who is here investigating the case, has exonerated Worden.

IMPORTANT STEP FORWARD IS TAKEN BY RUSSIANS REGARDING WOMEN

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—An important advancement in the civil position of women has just been made by Mr. Hartington, the auditor general of the Russian empire.

Hitherto the thousands of educated women, doing clerical work in the department have had only the status of temporary employees engaged by the state.

BONAR LAW OPENS HOME RULE CAMPAIGN

London, Nov. 29.—Sir Edward Carson and Bonar Law arrived in Dublin yesterday morning to open the campaign in that city against home rule. They received an enthusiastic reception from the Dublin unionists.

Bonar Law, speaking before the unionist association, said Mr. Asquith's latest speech removed all difficulties, as the unionists were now aware where they stand and were prepared to fight. It was evident, he said, that the Ladybank speech meant nothing other than that matters were going to be allowed to drift.

He charged that there was a corrupt bargain between the nationalists and the government. His main demand was that home rule be submitted to the country in a general election. If the country confirmed the government's home rule policy the unionist party would bow to it. Here there were some protests in the audience. If Bonar Law continued, the government would attempt to force Ulster before a general election the unionists would support the Ulstermen and resist to the utmost.

"Ulster will not submit," he continued, "we will not allow her to be coerced."

SAYS RAW MEAT JUICE IS CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Nobel Prize Winner Declares That the Treatment is Difficult to Follow, But It Will Be Effective If It Be Carried Out Faithfully for Period of Three Years.

Turis, Nov. 29.—Prof. Charles Richet, the distinguished scientist to whom was awarded the Nobel prize for medicine this year, announces that tuberculosis can be cured with raw meat juice.

"The treatment is difficult to follow," he said, "but I have proved its effectiveness. Every day the patient must go to a slaughter house, obtain 10 pounds of fresh meat, then chop it into small pieces, and mix it with juice, which should be consumed on ice."

"My patients who were suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs were cured by this treatment, although it had to be followed faithfully for three years to reverse the slightest trace of the affection."

"I admit it is a costly as well as a difficult remedy, but it is a certain one in all but the most advanced cases. I do not believe any serum exists which will cure the dread disease."

Professor Richet more than 120,000 people in France yearly, according to Dr. Albert Calmette, who is trying to get the French government to give the scientists an island of Guinea where experiments may be made with monkeys, with a view to eradicate the white plague of which one in seven of human adults die.

Dr. Calmette has discovered a vaccine which has given to calves immunity from tuberculosis. He has mixed most virulent such bacilli in their food and inoculated them under the flesh, pumping hundreds of millions of germs into their veins. But every calf vaccinated beforehand has not contracted the disease; post mortem examination failed to reveal the slightest trace of the affection.

Dr. Calmette admits, however, his experiments are not conclusive as to the effective treatment of humans.

CALLS IT FOLLY TO IGNORE HOSTILITY WHICH IS INBRED

Return of Alsace-Lorraine is Only Basis of Having it Stamped Out.

HE DOES NOT CRITICIZE
FRENCH; HE UNDERSTANDS

On the Other Hand He Finds Fault Indirectly With Course of the Emperor.

Berlin, Nov. 29.—Prince Bernhard von Buelow, formerly German imperial chancellor, today abandoned the attitude which he has so long maintained in order to warn his countrymen, he says, that inactivate hostility to Germany is the seed of the French policy. Thus, he declares the folly of ignoring the inbred hostility of the French and of trying to arrange Germany's negotiations with France on any other basis. "It is idle to hope for a reconciliation with France," he says, "without restoring the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. The French determination to attack Germany whenever there is a prospect of success, must continue to be a factor in the calculations of statesmen. Germany should try to maintain courteous and correct relations with France, with whom she co-operate in minor questions, but she should not chase fantasies nor aspire to overcomes France's ingrained hatred by complicity."

Prince von Buelow does not criticize the French, declaring that he fully comprehends their attitude. On the other hand he criticizes indirectly the emperor's occasional holding out of the olive branch.

Other parts of his statement dealt with the Moroccan policy of Germany, the Bosnian crisis and Prince von Buelow's resignation of the imperial chancellery.

Another Frontier Incident.

Paris, Nov. 29.—Another Franco-German frontier incident occurred last evening at Garmen, on the Alsatian side of the line. Two lieutenants arrested a French civilian, who escaped, but was recaptured. A mixed crowd promptly assembled outside the guard house and as a serious breach of the peace seemed inevitable a party of 50 German soldiers turned out, cartridges being distributed to them. The officer in command, however, issued an order not to fire at, but to charge the crowd. This was done, and 20 arrests were made, including two barrikaders, a publisher, and all three French, and a Paris newspaper editor.

ARMY BEATS NAVY IN FOOTBALL 22 TO 9

New York, Nov. 29.—Under skies that momentarily threatened rain, a gala crowd of 40,000 odd, among them the president of the United States, surged toward Upper Manhattan today for the annual football game between the army and navy. Played this year for the first time at the Polo Grounds, New York, it was estimated that spectators of the contest totaled more than 42,000, a greater number ever witnessed a world's series baseball game contest.

SHIP 170,000,000 BUSHELS GRAIN

Greatest Quantity That Ever Left the Head of the Lakes.

Port Arthur, Ont. Nov. 29.—The greatest grain shipments ever known at Port Arthur and Fort William are in full swing.

Before navigation closes it is expected that 170,000,000 bushels of grain will have left the elevators at the head of the lakes and gone down the great inland waterways.

The size of the shipments is without precedent but owing to the favorable weather and more adequate facilities, the congestion of last fall has been avoided.

Yesterday at the elevators of both cities, 3,000,000 bushels of grain were loaded into vessels, and today an even larger amount is expected to pass through the spoils to the vessels under way, which are nearly 30 large steamers waiting to receive the grain harvest. Up to date since the opening of navigation, approximately 145,000,000 bushels of grain have been shipped, 60,000,000 from the twin cities, which is 10,000,000 bushels more than shipped by water during the whole of last season, and if shipments continue at their present rate until the close of navigation on the lakes, as there is every prospect of doing, the grand total will be paid down the great lakes from Port Arthur and Port William elevators for 1913 will approximate 170,000,000 bushels.

Huerta Recalls Diaz.

Mexico City, Nov. 29.—President Huerta, in his extremely, has recalled Porfirio Diaz in the general division in the Mexican army and has requested the former president in exile to resume his old military command. General Diaz is 82 years old.

General Diaz called his consent to today, but did not indicate when he would leave Paris.

Like General Jose Siles, after the battle of Belhano, in March, 1912, General Antonio Robles, military governor of the state of Tamaulipas, killed himself after losing Victoria, the capital. The suicide of General Robles is not admitted by the government, but the news is contained in a private message to his relatives here, who do not question its authenticity.

NAVAJO INDIAN REVOLT HAS COME TO AN END

Surrender Follows the Conference With General Scott Who Made a Journey to the Armed Camp of the Renegades and Talked to Them in Their Own Language.

Durango, Colo., Nov. 28.—The rebellion of the two-wife men of the Navajo, at the Shiprock, N. M., agency, which took place in an armed camp on the beautiful Mountain two weeks ago, is ended. At the Chief Medicine Man with seven other renegades, surrendered last night to Superintendent Shelton, of the Shiprock agency at the Coastland trading post, after General Hugh Scott had visited the camp and talked with the renegades in their own language. The medicine chief and his companions brought with them to the trading post the promise that their followers on the beautiful Mountain would surrender today.

TRAGEDY OF DISEASE IN LAC LA BICHE COUNTRY

Provincial Health Officer Going to the Scene to Investigate Serious Situation—As a Result of Conditions Six of One Family of Half Breeds Already Are Dead.

Dr. Laidlaw, provincial health officer, leaves today for the country north of Lac La Biche for the purpose of investigating what he himself characterizes as one of the worst cases of disease and neglect ever brought to the attention of his department. The fact that the provincial health officer himself should find it necessary to take such an arduous trip is in itself indicative of the seriousness of the situation. According to the files on record at the government buildings were received over a month ago from the priest of the mission at Lac La Biche that a half breed family by the name of Bique were in a bad way as the result of a serious attack of typhoid fever. The family consisted of the mother and father and ten children. As there are no sanitary arrangements whatever in that particular part of the Lac La Biche district and as all drink promiscuously from the lake water it is feared that the disease was contracted from the water and from fly infection. When the local priest noticed that one of the children was seriously ill he suspected it was typhoid fever and warned the father and mother to take every precaution. This was just a little over a month ago. Today as the result of the ignorance and neglect of warnings, six of the family are dead—consisting of the father, Joseph Bique, one daughter and four sons. Dr. Norman, the department's agent in these parts, was instructed to investigate the case. After his report had been received orders were sent from Edmonton to the effect that the mission and all its contents should be carefully burned and the surrounding soil ploughed and sterilized. The mounted police have been put in charge of the survivors who are at present being kept by the provincial government. As the mother and four small children are in a pitiable state of destitution and as the ravages of the fever were of such a serious nature it has been thought necessary for the provincial health officer himself to visit the scene of the tragedy.

ALBERTANS GOING TO VISIT ROCHE

They Will Discuss With Minister of Interior Proposed Banching Policy.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—To discuss with Hon. R. Roche, minister of interior, the proposed ranching policy, founded on the report of the ranching commission, a delegation from Alberta, will visit the capital about December 6. The delegation will consist of Hon. Senator Langbeed, R. B. Bennett, M. P., and R. Michener, M.L.A., leader of the opposition in that province. Some changes will be discussed by the delegation with Dr. Roche.

John Kias has obtained a divorce in Chicago from Esther Kias because she cheated a boarder who returned the kiss.

REBEL BULLETS PIERCE WALL OF BARRACKS.

This photograph was taken in the city of Juarez after the defeat of the Federal garrison by General Villa's army of revolutionaries. The photograph shows a wall of the federal barracks riddled by rebel bullets, and a group of rebels discussing the battle.

STREET RAILWAY NOTES

The high level cars will operate on a five-minute schedule from 1 o'clock to 10:15 afternoon for the benefit of south riders and the north side people who wish to skate on McKernan's lake. The high level cars will operate on a 15-minute schedule from 3 to 10 o'clock tonight. This will be the regular Saturday afternoon schedule. All the lines were operated close to schedule time yesterday until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the power appeared to be too weak to take care of all the trippers. On route 1, 15 minutes were lost on the schedule time. A heavy car on this line was overcrowded and could not keep its headway.

The Nelson avenue line, known as route 6, is being changed today. Instead of two cars running each way around the belt there will be three cars operating. The round trip will be made in 35 minutes. Traffic Manager Heddon stated today that he has dismissed C. Danvers for falling behind on his schedule time and interrupting the service on 24th street. He lost eight minutes on the return trip south on 24th street, part of the time being taken at the Tretheway siding changing ends. When repudiated Mr. Heddon states that this apparently did not seem to know that he was running late, and showed no intention of looking after his run in accordance with instructions. He was summarily dismissed by the traffic manager.

ITALIAN WARSHIP PLANS DISAPPEAR

London, Nov. 28.—Writing from Rome, a correspondent says that all though every effort is being made to conceal the facts, considerable work has been created at the Italian ministry of marine as well as at Spezia as the result of the disappearance of plans and specifications designed for a new class of dreadnoughts.

The most searching investigations have failed to reveal any traces of the documents and though copies of them exist the fact that they have fallen into the hands of a foreign power will probably require that the designs shall be modified in more than one important particular.

MINERS LIBERATION LEAGUE.

There was a large attendance of delegates from the various labor organizations at a meeting held in the labor hall on Sunday last at 2 p.m., when the Edmonton District Miners' Liberation League was organized. J. A. S. Smith was elected president and W. White was elected secretary. A publicity committee also was named and means committee were elected.

It was unanimously resolved to hold a mass protest meeting on Sunday, November 30 at 8 p.m. in the Lyceum theatre, when prominent members of the local labor movement will deliver addresses. Every worker should take advantage of this opportunity to protest against the travesty of justice inflicted on the miners of Vancouver Island.

Montreal Stocks.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—Apart from trading in a few odd lots, trading in the local market was almost dead around the opening. The market closed at 10:15, with no effect on the price, which remained unchanged around 215. ## MINISTERS CHANGE PORTFOLIOS AND GARIEPY GOES IN Mitchell Becomes Treasurer and Stewart Takes Over Public Works.

MEMBER FOR BEAVER RIVER TO MUNICIPALITIES

New Minister is One of Most Polished Speakers in the House.

The new minister of municipal affairs for the province of Alberta is Hon. William Gariepy, K.C., who was sworn in before His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Duffus last night. Hon. C. B. Mitchell has resigned the portfolio of minister of public works to take the office of provincial treasurer.

The minister of public works is now Hon. Charles Stewart, who has resigned the portfolio of municipal affairs, and was also sworn in last night. A bill has been introduced for an election to be held on Monday, December 22. Nominations will be made on Monday, December 15th.

The new minister of public works will have a wide scope for his talents. He has served the government well as minister of municipal affairs since May 1912. Since taking over this important office he has effected many improvements in rural municipalities. His careful handling of the Towns and Villages Act has won for him the respect of a large percentage of those with whom he has had to deal.

The new minister of municipal affairs was elected in the Beaver River district at the last election. He is one of the most polished speakers in the house, and has won distinction in his handling of some of the hazy questions that have been heard recently in the house.

Mr. Gariepy is a member of the firm of Gariepy, Groulx & Dunlop. Last spring he received the appointment of King's Counsel.

The new provincial treasurer, Hon. C. B. Mitchell, has been honored with three portfolios in this province. First, he was made attorney-general, then minister of public works, and later minister of education. The Hon. Mr. Mitchell has been acting premier during the absence of Premier Stinson, and has been a valuable minister to the government since his appointment. Before receiving these honors, Mr. Mitchell won his way to the top of the ladder in his own profession, and was a judge in the district court of Calgary. He represents the Bow Valley district, and formerly was twice elected as member for Medicine Hat.

LOCAL SOCIALISTS MOVE.

The Edmonton local of the Socialist Party of Canada, whose headquarters for the past five years have been at 422 First street, are removing to larger and more commodious premises over the Lyceum theatre, Jasper avenue west, where after December 1 the free reading room will be open to the public, and the regular business meetings of the local will be held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

The subject discussed at last Tuesday's meeting was the "Material Conception of History." Comrade McQuinn handled this subject in an able manner, as was evidenced by the interest with which his remarks were followed and the number of questions asked.

The subject for next Tuesday's meeting, December 2, is "War" and J. H. Knight is the speaker which will ensure a large attendance.

A five-minute service will be given on the Tackling Plant cars today from 10:30 tonight for the benefit of the Saturday afternoon shoppers.

TERRITORY EXCHANGE FOR THREE NATIONS

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The suggestion is made in Denmark that the United States should give Denmark Mindanao Island in the Philippines in exchange for Greenland.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY WILL BE OBSERVED BY SCOTIA'S SONS

Day Falls on Sabbath and Commemoration Will Be Held Next Day.

GRAND CONCERT IN EMPIRE AUDITORIUM

Patron Saint of Scotland Suffered Martyrdom in Northern Greece.

This year St. Andrew's day falls on a Sunday, but the Scotchmen of Edmonton have no intention of confining their celebration to a church service; on the contrary, they have made all arrangements to observe the feast of the famous Scottish patron saint, according to its charter, is obliged to celebrate the holy day on the following Monday if the calendar of the year has it on a Sunday.

The local society will do honor to Scotland's patron saint through the medium of what is known all over the Empire as a "Scotch concert." The concert will be given in the Empire Auditorium, under the distinguished patronage of his honor Lieutenant-governor Bulver.

St. Andrew has done too much for Scotland to be passed by with the mere mention of his name. His legacy is about as interesting as Scotland's own.

It is not generally known, perhaps even by all Scotchmen that St. Andrew was not always Scotland's patron saint. Until about the middle of the eighth century St. Peter occupied that distinguished position. St. Andrew's first great connection with the northern kingdom dates from the year 719 A.D., on which date, a monastic legend tells us, a certain St. Regulus was wrecked on the coast of Scotland at a place called St. Andrew's. This monk was on a mission to the Scotch, and carried with him the precious relics of St. Andrew, which consisted of part of an ear, three fingers, one tooth and a fragment of a knee. St. Andrew himself, according to tradition, suffered martyrdom at Patras, in Achaea, between the years 62 and 72 A.D., after having spent several years preaching in Scythia, Northern Greece and Epidaur.

The remaining relics of the great saint repose to this day within one of the four columns which support the dome of St. Peter's at Rome.

To show how deep was the belief in St. Andrew it is interesting to recall

PAINS HAVE VANISHED

Neuralgia Completely Cured.
The cure of Mrs. H. L. Barrett, Guthrie, P. Q., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mrs. Barrett says: "I suffered intensely from neuralgia in the head, face and shoulders. I had used various medicines without relief. I heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it, and I bless the day I did. I took it several months and now feel well. All my pains have vanished."

that Robert the Bruce in 1324 secured the mighty victory of the Scots at the battle of Bannockburn to the intervention of the saint, "the guardian of their realm."

The peculiar shaped cross of the saint has for centuries been the national emblem of Scotland, a blue ground with a white saltire cross. Shows in their pockets watching the cars go past and making little or no attempt to regulate the traffic, he would have each inspector fill in a card which would show the time each car passes these three main junctions. These cards would be checked up each day and would assist in verifying complaints. They would also help to educate the inspectors as to their responsibilities. The scheme has been referred to the mayor and the commissioners have promised to take the matter up with the superintendent.

The card system is one that Alderman Livingstone told the commissioners he had seen used in Toronto when recently he looked into how that city runs its street cars. Following is a copy of the card:

The complete answer of the Alberta government to the protests of the conservative opposition in the legislature when they arose to declare that the elevator policy was an unwarrantable policy is given in the check for $300,000 issued by the government the other day to cover the amount of the government's advance on fifty elevators of the co-operative string already erected and in the business of receiving farmers' grain and forwarding it to the market without the intervention of the monopoly. Not only has the policy worked out to be a practical effectiveness, but the unexpectedly successful result is presented of the farmers having built so many elevators that the $300,000 provided by the government as advances on loans on elevators built—an amount which was expected to have been amply sufficient to cover this year's operations—is found to have proven insufficient by $50,000. Under the policy the farmers have built more elevators than they promised to build and more than the government ever expected would be built this year in accordance with the policy.

The collage of the opposition criticism in this matter of the elevators is characteristic of the fable which the test of time has fastened upon every conservative criticism of the government's forward policy. When the railway policy was first advanced there was a double-headed criticism. The lending of the government's credit toward the guaranteeing of railway lines was suicidal finance which would most certainly involve the province beyond hope of redemption; and the railways which the government's policy was producing on the maps were "paper railways" which would never be constructed. The antithetical nature of these criticisms is evident upon the face of them. But nevertheless the working out of the policy has answered both sides of it. The construction of the railways has not cost the province a cent; and the railways are being built—five hundred miles of them last summer.

The same fate awaits the opposition criticism of the government's elevator policy; has, in fact, already overtaken it. As a result of the elevator policy of the Alberta government the handling of the farmers' grain in this province, it is now quite clear, is about to go onto a co-operative basis, not alone in any one section of the province but throughout the entire country. The day of the monopoly elevator is over.

By the action to the cabinet of the name of Wilfrid Gariepy the province of Alberta secures in an executive capacity the services of a young man whose experiences and habits of thought are characteristically western and whose capacities and abilities have long since been recognized by those who know him best. In the office of minister of municipalities the choice of Mr. Gariepy is a particularly happy one. Following Hon. Chas. Stuart, whose breadth of vision has done more toward the sweeping demarcation of the municipal affairs of the province of Alberta than has ever been accomplished in any other section of the North American continent, Mr. Gariepy's thorough grounding in the fundamentals of local self-government and his wide experience in municipal affairs exactly fits him for the post.

Of the ex-minister of municipal affairs who is now entrusted with the less academic but more exacting department of public works it will be realized at once that Mr. Stuart's tremendous energy and the aggressiveness with which he grasps whatever he takes in hand is alone a guarantee of his success in that capacity. The other changes in the cabinet are all to the good, and it can be said without the possibility of contradiction that Alberta has now the strongest cabinet—individually and collectively—and the best balanced ever gathered together to administer the affairs of any province in the Dominion.

In his Halifax platform Mr. Borden said, "We will favor a thorough and complete reform of the laws relating to the civil service so that future appointments shall be made by an independent commission, acting upon the report of examiners after competitive examinations." Before Mr. Borden arrived in office the Laurier government had put the inside service under a commission, so that to this extent the patronage evil was done away with.

After the election of the Borden government, civil service reform not merely stopped, it became civil service reform. Never was such a mad scramble for office known. Never has the country seen such a rush to dismiss every possible liberal from the civil service. During two years of Borden rule the civil service has been tampered with as never before. During these two years not a move has been made to reform the outside service along the lines adopted by the Laurier government for the inside service. So great has the evil become that Messrs. Fripp and Chabot, the conservative M.P.'s for Ottawa, have published an earnest demand that the outside service be put under a commission, with the ingenious rider that they are "favorable to appointment on a basis of physical and technical fitness." That last remark will probably spoil their case. It is political fitness that the Borden-Rogers combination requires, and nothing else.

J. ELBICK FRASER EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of the Daily Capital:
Dear Sir,—On reading the Capital last evening I felt hit with wonder and astonishment when I read the account of your interview with the authorities in the Land Titles office.

The statement in your paper that Mr. Ross the oil expert sought my services as a guide is erroneous and devoid of any basis in fact.

I had a fortnight's holiday coming me last summer, but Mr. Walker the assessor, could only grant me a week. I was obliged to make the most of it, and during the month of August last, I took the Hudson Bay steamboat from the Landing and made the Trip due to the Government, viz. to the Athabasca and Pelecan gas fields to the Grand Rapids 90 miles from Fort McMurray. On the Trip I had the privilege of meeting Mr. Ross and learning much of his experience in the oil business. He was not acting a guide or taking any active part whatever in exploring gas fields, please entertainance of having done anything to assist me in my work.

The authorities at the land office have spared a joke instead of an oil well, in associating my name in any way with the oil business. I am not in the thirly press.

Yours truly,
J. ELRICK FRASER,
Assistant in charge of south side assessors' office.

While Soaring There at 75c and 80c Edmontonians
Pay 35c to 40c.

While the price of eggs in the east is soaring to 75 and 80 cents a dozen with the prospects of them going even higher, the citizens of Edmonton are enjoying fresh eggs every day at from 25 to 40 cents a dozen. Local farmers are on the public market daily offering fresh eggs at these prices. Many dealers in hen fruit in other parts of the province ship eggs to the Edmonton market and these are handled by the middlemen at the prices quoted.

There is another branch of the Edmonton market which is worthy of notice. Those who are accustomed to buying on the market will have noticed that many coal dealers are lined up offering to sell to all comers wagon loads of coal. Yesterday at noon there were 30 loads of coal on the market, and six loads of wood. The coal is selling at from $3.75 to $4.50 a ton, in accordance with the quality or the mood in which the customer finds the dealer.

If the dealers are not successful in disposing of their commodity during the day they stay in the city over night and usually have no trouble in finding customers. This makes it possible for the citizens not only to buy all kinds of foodstuffs at the market, but also gives them the opportunity of seeing the grades of coal all lined up in a row and ready for delivery at a moment's notice.

Mayor Short served the city satisfactorily as mayor during 1902, 1903 and 1904 and helped to frame the city charter. He has served the city satisfactorily in the same capacity during the past year.

He has wiped off a deficit of five million dollars inherited from 1912.

He has financed the city over the hardest year in its history.

He is closing the year with an assured credit for five millions for next year's activities.

He has reorganized the accounting department of the city.

He has met the demand for utilities set by the growth of the city. Both inside and radial paving and planking have been doubled. The same increase has been made in water and sewer services.

Permanent street railway construction has been increased by twenty-eight miles.

Corresponding telephone extensions have been made and exchanges built.

Unnecessary departments have been done away with.

A critical audit of work has been instituted for the more economical regulation of expenditures.

An agreement has been completed with the St. Albert Interurban Railway by which the business of the St. Albert District is made tributary to the city.

of government, Mayor Short has declared himself unequivocally as ready to have all such changes conditioned on the expressed will of the ratepayers in the form of a plebiscite after full information has been obtained and properly and publicly discussed by the ratepayers and tenants.

This refers to Commission Form of Government as advocated by Mr. McNamara and the Civic League, or any other form of municipal government which the citizens might wish to investigate.

Your vote is respectfully solicited

CANDIDATES TALK AT MANY POINTS LAST EVENING

Varied Audience Greeted the Speakers at Kinistino Avenue Meeting.

MAYOR SHORT REFUTES CAMPAIGN ROORBACK

Struggle Waxes Warm as Orators Gather Energy Each Succeeding Night.

One of the most heterogeneous gatherings of humanity that has yet assembled in the present municipal campaign was that which crowded into the Arcade theatre on Kinistino avenue last night. There were of all callings, English, Poles, Scots, Russians, Irish, Italians, Negroes, Jews and several other nationalities, and all did their best to follow the perverted speeches of the aspirants for civic honors.

There were also a number of meetings in various other sections of the city, including Westmount, the Viking hall, Elm Park school, and wherever two or three could be gathered together. All of which, in conjunction with the hoarseness and the growing state of nerves which the candidates are apparently accumulating, would seem to indicate that the campaign is waxing warm.

The speeches vary but little from night to night, and when one has heard one edition he does not need to attend many more to gain a fair idea of the blundering—great and small—which the candidates seek to convey to the "intelligent elector."

Mayor Short addressed meetings at the Viking hall, and at Westmount and the Arcade theatre. His was the first occasion to refute a charge contained in a campaign by sheet distributed by Mr. McNamara, to the effect that he had increased the operating expenses of the central administration during the year, and that he had endeavored to subsidize his denial. He expressed himself in favor of extending the water and sewer mains to every house in the city so that all may enjoy their advantages. He also pointed out the difficulties which he had to encounter during the past year in administering the affairs of the city, and he alluded to the hasty organization of the water works, which had been gradually reduced and the remainder of which sadly needs attention.

At the Elm Park meeting Mr. McNamara said he was represented as being opposed to the removal of the pumping plant. On the contrary, he would have it removed to the Rockies if it were necessary to do so to secure pure water. He discussed the commission government for some time as well as a number of minor matters already touched upon.

Mr. A. Parrillo spoke for Mr. Kenney at the Viking hall.

FORT FRASER LOTS IN GREAT DEMAND, SAYS MR. MILLER

Man Who is Conducting Sales Tells of Many Transfers Recently.

BUILDING IN TOWN HAS BEEN LUXURY

Entrance of Railway Will Vastly Improve Conditions at Divisional Point.

The man who is going to sell to the people of Edmonton what is left of Fort Fraser has arrived in Edmonton and is registered at the Empire hotel. His name is J. J. Miller, and he comes from Vancouver, in which city is the home office of the Dominion Stock and Land Company, the owners of the townsite. Mr. Miller has already held two major auctions, one in 1910 for the townsite of Edmonton, and one in Vancouver and another in Calgary.

The auction sale in this city is billed for Tuesday night and will be the last public auction of Fort Fraser lots. Mr. Miller is more than familiar with the town on the coast and throughout the west. He came to Canada in 1905 from Australia, his native country. He has been for years mayor of the town of Coquitlam and also official auctioneer for the Australian government. After a long and interesting public life in the outposts, Mr. Miller decided to have a first-hand look at the other division of the north of which he had heard so much and of which he has been a citizen ever since his first visit eight years ago.

Four years ago Mr. Miller founded the Vancouver exhibition association and has been its president ever since.

This exhibition is claimed by Mr. Miller and his friends from Vancouver to be second only to that of Toronto in size and importance.

Mr. Miller's reputation as an auctioneer of big things had followed him from Australia and when an expert was wanted to sell the townsite of Prince Rupert Mr. Miller was persuaded to accept the post.

Mr. Miller informed his interviewer that the company which he represents, the Dominion Stock and Land Company, on being assured by the G.T.P. as to the actual townsite of Fort Fraser, bought up through various agencies, all the land in the vicinity for 20 miles around. This was done in order to protect the site from the speculators and had shares in a short time the railroad itself acquired 60 acres and the British Columbia government, on being assured by the G.T.P. that this had already been sold to buyers in Vancouver and Calgary, about 1500 acres having been registered so far.

In answer to the usual question as to the effect of the hard times on the course, on being assured by Mr. Miller that he was confident, Mr. Miller admitted that while money was certainly not as plentiful as it might be he could not complain. Fort Fraser, in his opinion, would be in every sense of the word, the "Edmonton of British Columbia." It is situated at the junction of the upper and lower Nechako rivers and will serve just the same kind of northern farm lands as is now served in Edmonton.

Up to now building in Fort Fraser has been a luxury. Ordinary native cost 25 cents a pound and labor cannot be had for less than $7 a day and as high as $10 is often paid. But according to J. J. Harvey, who is accompanying Mr. Miller to look after the advertising and of the sales, these facts are the finest advertisement the new town could have, for if building can go on at all under such adverse conditions, what it will be like when the G.T.P. has its train running through its new divisional point some time next year.

When asked as to the time when the two ends of steel might be finally joined, Mr. Harvey stated that he had met a few days ago, the chief engineer of the Dominion government railways, Mr. Schreiber, who had pronounced, after looking over the ground carefully, that the golden spike would certainly be driven in June or July of next year by the westward-bound train.

Juk Had a Jag.

It, Juk had a jag on last night, so he was arrested and conducted to the coop. When he arrived there he was surprised before being placed in the cell and a loaded revolver was found in his pocket. So this morning he was charged with carrying a concealed weapon contrary to the criminal code. Juk was very much surprised to think that he had carried a loaded revolver, but, a smile suddenly lit up his face, "this is not my coat! I borrowed it from a friend, and he must have left the revolver in it." For the information of any who are in the habit of borrowing other people's coats, look in the pocket first and see if there is a loaded revolver hid in it, as it will cost you $15 and costs if you don't.

PROBLEMS IN DRESSMAKING

HOW TO MAKE A BLOUSE WITH RAGLAN SLEEVES

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Any question pertaining to this lesson that you may wish to ask or other questions on general dress or dressmaking problems. May Manton will gladly answer if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to May Manton, 100 W. 32nd St., New York City.

THE blouse with raglan sleeves, or sleeves that extend quite to the neck edge, is the very newest and smartest that has appeared and this one makes an excellent example, for it shows the style at its best. Happily for the home dressmaker, the blouse is also an extremely easy one to make. The sleeves are loose and require no fitting and it is only necessary to follow a few simple directions to be quite certain of success. The model is a good one for the entire gown that is made of pretty, light material and also is desirable for the blouse to be worn with the tailored suit or with an odd skirt. It appropriately can be made from net, any one of the thin, soft silks, wool crepes and fabrics of the kind. For the center front or vest portion, net is used in the illustration and net is unquestionably one of the most fashionable of materials, but it is impossible to lay down any law as to the details of this kind. If the use of the blouse renders a more sturdy material desirable and it contrasts well with the material used for the main portion, a soft crepe de chine, tulle cloth or even mouseline, satin could be used. The frills can be made either of net or of lace.

material, cutting them one and one-half inches in width and using the extra width left from the back. Allow a seam of sufficient width for stitching. Join the outer edges together, taking care not to stretch in the least. Turn on the seam and baste flat. Then press before you take another step, for the iron should be the constant companion in dressmaking. Near the shoulder edge of the front of the blouse, you will find a line of perforations and two groups of two perforations each. Gather on the perforations between these two groups. Now arrange the front edges of the sleeves over the fronts of the blouse, meeting the under-arm and neck edges exactly, placing the inner edges on the lines of perforations and drawing up the gathers to fit. Baste carefully with short stitches. As the next step, arrange the back edges of the sleeves over the back of the blouse with the outer edges on the perforations. Baste and stitch both front and back edges into position three-quarters of an inch within each edge. As the next step, we will lay the plaits and finish the openings of the sleeves, because it is much easier to do that work before the under-arm seams are sewed up. There are two plaits in each sleeve. To form these, lap the two smaller perforations to the two larger perforations and baste into place. Turn the straight edges of the openings under on the first line of perforations from each edge. Again baste and then lap onto the plaits edges with the inner edges just at the perforations and baste again; then stitch one-half inch within each edge from the lower edges of the sleeves to a little above the plaits; turn on the needle and stitch across to the edges to give strength. Remove bastes and, if need be, press. The sleeves, the fronts and the back of the blouse are now all stitched together and the openings in the sleeves are finished and the garment has taken form as shown in the illustration. If you like the trimming of buttons, this will be the time to sew them on. Place them just as in the picture or in groups as you like. Now fold the blouse with the right side out and with the under-arm and sleeve edges together, single and double notches exactly meeting. Baste as close as possible to the edge and stitch. Then turn the blouse on the wrong side and baste again, placing a straight strip of seam binding under one edge. Stitch a second time on the traced line that marks the outside edge of the blouse, through both the material and the binding, for the binding being straight while the edges of the blouse are curved will prevent all stretching and keep the material in shape. Underface the neck edges of the sleeves and press. You will now be ready to finish the front 8555 Fancy Blouse, $4 to 40 bust.

The first step in the making is, of necessity, the cutting out. In the three diagrams, the various pieces of the pattern are shown laid out in the most economical way on material twenty-seven inches wide for the blouse, net forty-four inches wide for the full front or vest, for in these days more materials are to be found in such widths than in any others. The full being only a straight piece of slightly graduated width, you do not, of course, need any pattern. To cut the vest, you must have the length and, in the forty-four inch net, there will be ample width beyond the vest to cut the full. Net gathers just as well cut lengthwise as crosswise, you can cut two long strips, sew them together and then follow the directions on the envelope as to the finish. First lay the pattern on the material, the back of the blouse on the material folded lengthwise, the front and sleeve on the second piece folded crosswise, for the full width will be needed. Pin carefully into place; then mark all around the edge with a tracing wheel if that is suited to the material, if not, with a piece of tailor's chalk or crayon. After that is done, it will be quite easy to cut as far beyond that line as your material will require to make a good seam. The outside edge of this pattern is the important one, for it is the busting line and the one that preserves the outline. Cut out the portions of the blouse and lay them aside; then the vest and the strip for the full. We will suppose that the long sleeves are to be used and the pattern is to be left full size but, if you desire the shorter sleeves, you must cut the pattern off on the cross line of perforations. We will discuss the finish of cuffs later.

Diagram showing the sleeve, front and cuff on material 27 in. wide. The material is folded crosswise that the two sides may be cut at one time.

The sleeve pattern is marked with three perforations near the front edge and four near the back, so that it is easy to distinguish which is which. The edges near these groups of perforations must be under-faced. For bindings, use lengthwise strips of the edges and arrange the vest, or front portions, under them.

Turn the front edges of blouse and vest portions, under on the perforations. Underface the neck edges of the blouse. Lay the front edges over the vest portions with the folded edges at the perforations, baste and stitch three-quarters of an inch within the edges. Gather the vest portions at the neck edge between the double crossers. Turn the seam allowance on the ends of the stays under and join to the vest portion.

Fashionable Blouses Afford Interesting Variety

PRETTY DESIGNS BY MAY MANTON

THERE is nothing like monotony in the blouse of today. It not alone is made from a great many different materials, it is also much varied in style and cut. Women who find them becoming may rejoice in the blouse kimono sleeves; those who find the style a little trying will be glad to welcome the elongated shoulders with the sleeves joined to the blouse at that point; and those who find every variation of the kimono trying will rejoice in the sleeves sewed to the armholes.

The lingerie blouse never falls into disuse. Just now hand embroidery with just a little lace insertion is considered the daintiest finish for lingerie and the like but, even the design here could be reproduced on crepe de chine quite as well as on linen and cotton fabrics but, while silk can be embroidered with success, lace trimming is apt to be sufficient. Silk blouses, net blouses and lace blouses are all having great vogue. One of the very newest gives a suggestion of a bodice and, for very thin materials, the accordion plating is much liked. Transparent materials are much used and charming effects are obtained by arranging them over linings cut exactly like the outside with the trimming arranged over the lining and under the net, chiffon or other material. Everything fashionable is thin and soft. For the silk blouses, moiré is much liked and flowered silks are extensively used, but there is a tendency toward maintaining the effect of the entire costume and the silk blouse that is to be worn with the coat suit or skirt of heavier material must harmonize with it in color or be treated in some way that connects the two. Only lace, net and lingerie materials are liked entirely in contrast.

The blouse that is made with skirt to match to make an entire costume does not differ materially in cut and style from the one designed for separate use; therefore there will serve a double purpose. The kimono model which is shown at the center is one of the newest and latest. It is pretty, not alone for the blouse but also for the gown to be worn beneath the bolero or over-blouse that makes such an important feature of the latest styles. It is pretty developed in lace, it is pretty developed in net, it is charming in crepe de chine and chiffon and it is quite appropriate for charmeuse satin, the new chiffon moiré and the pretty wool crepes that are much used for the simplest indoor gowns.

FADS AND FANCIES OF FASHIONS

THE opening of the autumn and winter season is always an interesting period here in New York but perhaps unusually so this year for the reason that fashions are exceptionally alluring. On the one hand, they are wonderfully beautiful; on the other, they are often travelled but, in spite of all, they have an inherent fascination. Fabrics are superb and colors are wonderful and one never ceases to marvel over the beautiful combinations and the really artistic effects and, withal, there is just a touch of Orientalism that makes its appeal. Today is almost as warm and sunny as spring and the Avenue is a delight. The shop windows are making ravishing displays of street costumes that are sumptuous and evening wraps and furs that will be called into use with the opening of the Horse Show, let the thermometer stand where it may. It is a time honored custom to wear during Horse Show week and the fashion continues in spite of the fact that early November is apt to be warm. As has been stated in previous letters, there is a very general tendency toward the use of entire skins, not alone for the making of garments but for the trimming of coats and suits made from material, but there are also to be worn a great many fancy sets that are made of velvet, silk and downy fabric of various kinds and for these either the smaller skins or isanias make the accepted finish. Natural furs in its tawny, yellowish tone stretched with dark hairs is extremely handsome in contrast with black and dark colors. A smart set noted this morning is made of black velvet of the softest, most pliable sort. It consists of a huge muff made soft and full, a turban, and a choker for the neck-piece. The muff is trimmed with a band near each edge. The choker consists of a wide plaiting of the velvet with a narrow band of the fur at the center and the hat is banded with fur and further trimmed with an ostrich tip. Almost by its side was seen a muff and neck-piece of lack tulle with trimming of red fox, one entire skin being curled about the muff while another was spread over the silk foundation to form a scarf. Chokers are especially designed for and especially adapted to young girls with slender throats. They are hooded closely about the throat and make a piquant, girlish finish to a pretty toilette. With the wonderful adaptability that belongs to the feminine world, we can wear our blouses and coats open at the neck in the morning with the assurance that only such finish means comfort and we can put the closest fitting chokers of fur around our throats in the afternoon with equal foundation. Fur seems almost to have reached the limit of its possibilities. It is used as trimming for negligees and for blouses as well as for suits and for wraps and hats and to be found in the newest collars and blouse garnishes. How long the supply will last under such a drain, it is not the part of fashion to determine but it is certain that a large number of the most beautiful and the simplest, one-time pleasures, skins are held at a high price. Almost as a matter of course, there are eccentricities in such conditions and, now that there is less made and the more abundant than attractive. The whole skins have almost a disagreeable suggestion. Not a few of the large scarfs with limp heads and paws give one the suggestion of the animal after the chase, and even our leading dealers will do questionable things for the sake of novelty. A seal coat, for example, is trimmed with a red fox skin hanging from the collar by its teeth and covering about the entire front of the garment. It gives quite the impression of the live creature's having jumped at the wearer's throat, but that condition seems no deterrent. It is new and it is fanciful and it will be worn to some extent.

There are wonderful fur cloths, such fur cloths as never were known in previous seasons, and very beautiful costumes are made thereof. Broadtail plush is extremely handsome and many of the mode plushes are a real delight. They are utilized for entire suits and for coats to be worn over cloth, but they are not meant to deceive. They are simply wonderfully beautiful fabrics with much the effect of fur but they are not to be looked upon as imitations only for they richly deserve a place of their own. The short-haired, light weight plush is much liked for costumes also and a very great deal of velvet is worn while duvetyne continues to be the smartest of all things. Perhaps the very latest whim is for simplicity in trimming and finish. We have been elaborated to the point of being extreme. Many of the newest and smartest gowns and costumes are remarkable for the little trimming used and their almost extreme simplicity.

PROTESTS AGAINST WATER CHARGES UNDER NEW RATE

F. Coutant Wants to Know
y Whose Authority Machine Was Installed.

At least one citizen in Edmonton has arisen in all his fury and lodged a stiff protest with the city commissioners regarding the excessive water charges. This individual is F. L. Coutant who states that since the installation of a meter he is paying about three times as much as formerly under the flat rate.

He has demanded an answer to a number of questions and tells the commissioners that the water meter is an "infernal machine" and it is not forthcoming he will instruct Chief Carpenter to "arrest" the pesky thing for speeding.

The letter which contains some valuable information has been referred to the waterworks superintendent for a report. The letter reads that:

"Prior to July 31st last we were paying $1.25 per quarter subject to a 10 percent discount, or $15.00 per year, and in comparison with other cities this charge was unduly high. By someone's instructions, certainly not mine, a meter was placed in the house, and I am billed $2.50 for three weeks' water, which figures out approximately three times the former charge. We have a soft water installation, and use this entirely for washing, so cooking and dishwashing in a small family is decidedly high if it costs $45 per year for water alone. Is the use of water to be put with the luxuries?"

"When spring comes, some of us will want to make our homes attractive with lawns and flowers, but if it is to cost the price of a meal for the family every time one waters the lawn this will be a desperate city to live in. We have to put up with sufficient other troubles in the civic utilities and should at least be free from worry about the increased cost of using water for cooking."

"What I wish particularly to inquire about is:

1. By whose authority was this infernal machine installed?

2. Who fixed the rate, and on what basis is it fixed?

3. Why is there such a discrepancy between flat and meter rates?

4. Why is meter rent charged for water meters and not for electric light meters, which surely cost the city more?"

5. Why are meters placed only in some houses and not in all?

"If you fail to give me relief from this oppressive rate, I will ask Chief Carpenter to arrest the pesky thing for speeding for it is absolutely beyond all reason to ask a small family to pay for water at the rate of $45 or more per year, particularly when no part of the water alleged to have passed through the meter was used for washing or watering gardens."

"I trust you will give this matter the investigation it deserves, and not add the burden of expense that is heaped upon me as a penalty for living in Edmonton."

SIXTY MEN DO TIME ON FARM DURING MONTH

Total of 210 Men Have Gone to Country Rather Than the Cells.

The report from the city farm for the month ending November 24 indicates that 60 men have done time under the watchful eye of Warden F. W. Lyons. This makes a total of 210 men that have been sent out to the country for a short vacation in preference to being in the prison cells in the city since the opening of the farm.

The warden, in his report, tells of how he keeps the men employed now that the crop has been harvested and incidentally he states the amount of the crops raised and how same have been disposed of. The stores and work department, and the children's shelter were each supplied with potatoes at the prevailing market prices, thus netting the farm $181.80.

The list of crops raised and the returns from each are given as follows: Oats, 1,100 bushels; barley, 134 bushels; turnips, 200 bushels; red and white carrots, 120 bushels; parsnips, 40 bushels; brotroot 20 bushels; potatoes, 1,000 bushels; man- golds and sugar beets, three tons.

The men have been kept busy during the past month in grading and discing. The warden states that he has received permission from the owner of the adjoining farm to drain across it, with the result that it will now be possible to drain off the wet portion of the farm and put it into first-class shape for cultivation.

Another good feature of the work set out in the report is that many of the men who have done time at the farm have been found employment through the good offices of the civic relief department and the Salvation Army.

FIRST THINGS

The first Christian bishop of Toulouse, the ancient French episcopal see, was St. Saturninus, whose festival is celebrated today. It was about the year 245 that Saturninus, by direction of Pope Fabian, established his see at Toulouse, where practically the entire population was heathen. Saturninus converted hundreds to the Christian faith, and this aroused the animosity of the pagan priests. One day the bishop passed through the capital, the center of heathen worship, where a vast crowd was collected about an altar on which a bull stood ready for sacrifice. Saturninus was seized and commanded, on pain of death, to bow down before the bull. He bravely refused, and was then tied to the bull, which was driven down the steps of the capital and through the streets. The mangled body of the bishop was taken up and buried by two of his women converts.

Miners and millmen in Alaska now work an 8-hour day.

London has some lamp posts still doing duty which were planted in the time of George IV.

AUCTION SALE

FORT FRASER TOWN LOTS

at Empire Auditorium, Edmonton, Tuesday, Dec. 2nd

Morning, Afternoon and Evening. Commencing 10 a.m.

The public seem to be fully alive to the important strategic position which Fort Fraser occupies in the very centre of British Columbia's greatest agricultural district.

After all, there is nothing that gives a city such continuous strength of backbone and prosperity as rich, agricultural lands.

With time, the value of the forests and mines "peter out," but not so with agricultural lands, as, properly husbanded, they are a never-ending source of wealth. Just look at the position of Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary today. The envy of the world.

Fort Fraser has an ideal location for a city at the confluence of the Upper and Lower Nechaco Rivers, rising gradually from the rivers to a height of about thirty feet, thus making natural drainage easy.

Fort Fraser has an abundance of water power, arrangements for the harnessing of which have already been made, thus insuring its future as the industrial centre of the interior of British Columbia.

FACTS

That's What Skin Sufferers Should Know—THE FACTS—for 15 Years D. D. D. Prescription Has Been the Standard—Now Ready.

It is in this last decade of medical research that internal drugs have proven as worthless for skin disease as for tooth-ache.

It is also in our modern rush of medical enlightenment that dress and diet have been discarded. First, because they cannot be prescribed. The tissues correctly, second, because they are the deep seats of the cure and impeding the disease.

To effect a cure of skin trouble the remedy must be in the field form. This skinment, now proven, was first made 15 years ago by a famous skin specialist, and it was not until the discovery of D. D. D. Prescription, a simple, soothing, cooling wash.

Apply D. D. D. to the skin and see how the itch is gone—intensely the moment the liquid is applied.

Good Health Means Success; Disease is the Great Handicap

Why Continue to Suffer When the Human Bake Oven, a Modern Treatment Employed at the Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth St. Will Master Ailment?

Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth Street, by the use of the Human Bake Oven, have demonstrated their value.

The treatment has been taken by thousands of men and women in various parts of America, and their signed statements, copies of which are on file in the office of the superintendent in charge here, indicate that they were benefited and restored.

Read what Mr. Gomer Wilkins, a resident of Coleman, Alta., says about the Human Bake Oven treatment in eradicating rheumatism:

"I suffered with rheumatism for about ten years. Sometimes every joint in my body ached. I could not do my work. I am employed in the Coleman coal mines, and, of course, this work was hindered for a man in my condition. I lost lots of time and money on account of rheumatism.

"I heard of the workings of the Human Bake Oven; in fact, several people from Coleman were taking the treatment, and we decided that if one went and got cured, then the rest would follow.

"Now I am here to say that after ten years' treatment in the Human Bake Oven, I have every reason to believe I am cured. The pains are all gone, the stiffness has left me and I feel like a new man. I really feel like going to work now, when feeling, of course, is new to a chronic rheumatic."

The Edmonton Sanatorium is equipped to handle the most obstinate cases. No charge is made for consultation. There are trained nurses in attendance for women and children. It does not cost you a penny to investigate.

then referred to a long letter submitted to the council by Commissioner Chalmers, who was not present at the meeting, and who would like to see it referred back to the committee for further consideration. There are many points which were not taken up by the council.

Alderman East suggested that the agreement be referred back to the committee. "Personally I am not at all satisfied with the agreement. I was at the first committee meeting but could not attend the second one. When this agreement was drawn up, I thought it did not cover the gas supply, and I would like to see it referred back to the committee for further consideration. There are many points which were not taken up by the council."

council on this matter he should have submitted it to the committee," asserted the worthy alderman.

Alderman East rose in his seat and said: "Since Alderman Livingston has made an assault on Commissioner Chalmers—

"I rise to a point of order, your worship! I didn't assault a commissioner," shouted Alderman Livingston. The mayor ruled that Commissioner Chalmers had not been assaulted and the discussion was resumed.

The committee of Commissioner Chalmers was well taken when the first clause of the Pelican agreement was discussed. The mayor and a majority of the council were in favor of the agreement, definitely stating that the gas should be delivered to a definite territory known as the present lease of the company and set out in a map to be attached to the agreement.

At this point in the discussion Alderman East asked that the engineer and commissioners should be requested to line up in the row with the members of the council and take part in the deliberations. The mayor ruled that the engineer and commissioners should be requested to come up and take a hand in the deliberations.

The second clause in the agreement dealing with the pressure at which the gas should be delivered to the city and the station took up a considerable amount of time. The agreement stated that the pressure should be the pressure at the terminal.

Long Discussion Follows.

City Engineer Latour recommended that it should be 35 pounds. He told the committee that in Calgary a pressure of 30 pounds is maintained, and this is reduced to four ounces for domestic purposes. In Medicine Hat he stated that the pressure maintained is 40 pounds, this being reduced to eight ounces for domestic use.

A long discussion followed as to how the gas line should be laid and what method should be adopted in determining the amount of gas to be delivered to the city. Some aldermen estimated that the initial pressure should be 35 pounds, while others argued that only the terminal pressure would be required.

Commissioner Chalmers pointed out that the only safe method would be to determine the maximum amount to be taken each day, which he roughly estimated would be between 15 and 17 million feet. The committee then decided that the city engineer should make calculations as to the amount of gas which could be delivered through the 16-inch pipe at the pressure required at the wells to deliver the city a sufficient supply at the station.

Mayor Bland, who presided for the Pelican company, stated that there are two things which the company will not do: (1) lay the pipe line across the Saskatchewan river; and, secondly, they could not guarantee the delivery of the gas which will deliver the full capacity of a 16-inch pipe if laid the entire distance from Pelican to the city. The company proposes to reduce the pipe at the well and increase it at the station, but agree to deliver to the city the full capacity of a 16-inch pipe.

Although the Clapp-Huntley report recommended that the sum of $100,000 be asked for the exploration purposes and the drilling of four wells in the Belly river area, the Pelican company committee has seen fit to recommend to the council that the sum of $200,000 be asked from the burgesses for that, in view of the present conditions of the debenture markets, this amount be raised out of the 1914-1915 taxes. The recommendation of the committee was submitted to council yesterday afternoon.

"Further to your committee's report No. 49 in this matter, we beg to recommend that the amount of three hundred thousand ($300,000.00) dollars be asked from the burgesses for the exploration of gas fields."

In view of the difficulty which would probably be encountered in this case, the committee for this purpose, we would further recommend that the amount be raised by current taxes, $150,000 in the year 1914 and the remainder in the year 1915."

POLICE COURT

Collected the Nickels.

Gus Brown was selling candies to those who hadn't used all their nickels for the collection plate last Sunday. For this breach of the Lord's Day Act, Gus was fined $10 and costs.

Charles Laichner was in the same swim, so he was rewarded with the same fine.

Kid's Friend Dismissed.

J. D. Lennox, alleged to be an intimate associate of the "Denver Kid," was dismissed this morning on charge of vagrancy, as he was not "enough evidence to support the charge."

Was Well Watched.

Edmonton is poorly supplied with checks on public buildings. In fact, anyone coming from a large city where there are lots of checks displayed on churches and other buildings, sometimes find it awkward when they arrive in Edmonton, where there is only one check displayed in public. Paul Lange found himself in this predicament. Being a man of an ingenious turn of mind, he decided to procure one of his watches for himself. With Paul, to think was to act. He therefore hid himself to the second-hand store situated at 622 First Street, and in the early hours of morning the owner was away, he decided to accompany himself. To make a long story short, he swiped half-a-dozen watches, and to protect himself, he also swiped a couple of revolvers and a coat, to keep himself warm. But poor Paul forgot all about Detective Knottling. That's where the latch came in, for while waiting to have his fuzz pulled in a barber shop, in came Knottling and forced Paul to accompany him to the police station.

After the evidence had been taken from the various witnesses for the magistrate committed Paul to trial.

As Paul was committed for trial, he stated proudly that he was an American citizen and that he expected that the American representative would appear for him at his trial.

They Were Only Drunk.

One would have thought, judging by the number of scars on their faces, that the first eight occupants of the dock in the police court this morning were battle-scarred heroes of the wars; but this illusion was soon dispelled, when the magistrate handed them the usual fine of four dollars and costs, for being under the influence of booze.

Irritations and Eruptions of the Skin

Besides that annoying and torturing itching of eczema, you can't forget that, left to itself, it becomes chronic and spreads over the body.

It is wonderful how quickly Dr. Chase's Ointment affords relief from the itching and sets the healing process in action. Gradually the sores disappear and new, smooth skin takes their place.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concession, Ont., writes:—"For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis or chronic eczema. They could not help me, and one of them told me if anyone offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 I could not keep my money. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

Dr. Chase's Ointment owes its wonderful success to the fact that it positively cures eczema. Put it to the test. 60c a box, all dealers. Sample box free, if you mention this paper. Edmonton, Bates & Co. Limited, Toronto.

MYOPIA

The word myopia is of Greek origin, meaning to close the eye—the partial closing of the eye in order to see distinctly being characteristic of all myopes. They thereby concentrate the rays of light, getting a more defined and distinct image. Myopia is known as a "disease of civilization," it being common to three in four of the communities, and is generally hereditary, but oftentimes acquired by young children when compelled to do close and continual work. All cases of Myopia are increased to a large extent by continuous use of the eyes in reading by a poor light or other means whereby the eye is subjected to a strain. Myopia, unlike Hyperopia, is always manifest, never latent, as is generally the case in the latter, the distance vision in Myopia being very much blurred, while the vision for close work, except in higher degrees, is normal and often even more acute than the perfect eye. The Myopic eye is too long, the distance between the retina and the crystalline lens being too great for the rays of light to focus clearly on the retina, and is corrected by neutralizing or decreasing the strength of the crystalline lens of the eye, artificially, by concave lenses ground to the proper strength, thus bringing the rays of light to focus clearly on the retina and making vision for distant objects clear and distinct.

Children Who Grow Very Fast
Need Careful Watching.

Next to infancy, the years between ten or twelve and eighteen are the most critical in life, especially for the boys and girls who grow too fast. Rapid growth and the physical changes that are taking place render them particularly liable to weakness and disorders of the digestive system, kidneys or lungs that very frequently when allowed to run on, condemn them to a lifetime of suffering.

It is most important that at this period of life those organs which carry off the body's waste and impurities—the bowels, the kidneys and the skin—should be kept active and vigorous.

Nothing will do this more effectively than that good old-fashioned remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. It acts directly on each of these organs, enabling them to do their work properly, and thus keeps the whole system pure and healthy.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are still made from precisely the same formula as when our grandfathers used them, for nothing better has ever been devised.
